Hello sorry for the late response. At this time I don't have the inventory to support an exchange. I am hoping to have an upgraded model which we will look at the exchange rate in the future for you. Please check back in 8 months and lets see where I am at.

Shel Jones

Gentlemen:

I have two Sabre lowers, both made by Cavalry Arms, that I'm not so pleased w/. SDI 2311 has a split down the top of the buffer tube/stock, and SDI 2440 has the FCS pocket welded together so tightly I can't get a trigger in there. Are you still offering your $35 exchange warranty service? I was very pleased w/ the last GWACS lower I got from you several years ago.
